Building Powerful Partnerships with Families

A FREE WEBINAR SERIES FROM DR. KAREN MAPP

Teachers and families are relying on each other to support children during this crisis. This webinar series will help school practitioners partner with families to support learning at home and sustain the growth and development of children during these unprecedented circumstances.

Dr. Karen L. Mapp is the coauthor of several books and articles on home-school partnerships, including Beyond the Bake Sale: The Essential Guide to Family School Partnerships and Powerful Partnerships: A Teacher’s Guide to Engaging Families for Student Success.

She is also the author of the Dual Capacity–Building Framework for Family-School Partnerships.

WEBINAR 1
Building Partnerships with Families: Where Do We Start?
Date: Wednesday, April 15, 3pm ET
Special Guests: Staff and family members from The Learning Community Charter School in Central Falls, RI

WEBINAR 2
Virtual Meetings, Gatherings and Publishing Parties
Date: Wednesday, April 22, 3pm ET
Special Guests: Ilene Carver, Boston Teachers Union and Tracy Curtin, Teacher, Boston Public Schools

WEBINAR 3
Tips and Tools for Effective Family Communication
Date: Wednesday, April 29, 3pm ET
Special Guest: Dr. Todd Rodgers, professor of public policy at the Harvard Kennedy School

WEBINAR 4
Family Engagement Phone Calls
Date: Wednesday, May 6, 3pm ET
Special Guests: TBA

WEBINAR 5
Connecting with Families with Special Needs Children
Date: Wednesday, May 13, 3pm ET
Special Guests: TBA

Participants in this webinar series will gain valuable insights and practical tools to build powerful partnerships with the families of the students they serve.

To learn more, visit scholastic.com/professional